Project Brief

When our clients decided to extend their home, space and privacy were at the top of the list. At their first meeting with Cape Cod's designer, they discussed the importance of the extension looking like it had always been a part of the original house, both inside and out, and the need for space including a separate area for the parents to 'escape'.

The Result

The design of the addition ticks all the boxes and more, creating a home that provides space and privacy. The quality and consistency of finishes both internally and externally, allow every aspect of this home to blend together. The result is a fully integrated, functional and desirable addition that meets the client's needs beyond their expectations, adding substantial value and street presence to their home.

Client Comments

'We really enjoy being in the Parents Retreat, when you are up there you feel like everything else is far away from you. You close the door and can't hear any noises and it just feels like you are on holidays.'
