Location:	Ryde
External Finishes:	Weatherboard
Rooms Added:	2nd Bedroom with WIR, 3rd and 4th Bedroom, Main Bathroom and Rumpus Room

Project Brief

Chad and Gemma chose Cape Cod Australia to revamp their compact three bedroom 1950s cottage and develop it into a spacious five bedroom home designed to take them into the future.

The Result

The addition has made room for a special kids zone on the first floor, which now includes three bedrooms, family bathroom and rumpus room. A parents' retreat/master suite was left untouched on the ground floor, while one bedroom was removed to create the stairwell and another has been transformed into a guest bedroom. The family remained in their home throughout the four-month build, and Gemma says she was impressed with the ease of the process and the stress-free construction.

Client Comments

"It was stress-free from start to finish, They were very time-efficient; everything happened quickly, there were no delays. You see some people building houses and they have no activity for weeks, whereas with our build, there was something happening every day. The builders and every single trade that came onsite were very friendly, very professional, very respectful. They were all very, just decent guys, so we felt safe and happy the whole time, having them around."
